

HOW TO PLAY

Throw rings from a distance, aiming to get the rings to land over one of the five posts.

Each ring that lands over a post scores points.

The player with the most points wins.

Each player starts with the four rings from a starting line, which may vary based on age or skill level.

Only rings that stay over the posts are scored - if a ring hits a post and bounces away, it does not score points.

The middle post scores 25 points.

After every player has thrown their four rings the person with the highest score wins or you can decide to take it in turns until the first player gets to 100 or 500 points.
